

Saturday Special Sale of Ready-to-Wear Waists and Dresses

This week our garment department offers some unusually good values in Waists and Dresses that are worthy of your inspection. These are desirable numbers made of good materials taken from our stock and placed on sale Saturday, September 18.

Ladies' $2.25 Waists, Special $1.69 $2.98 and $3.98 Dresses, Special $1.49

One lot of about three dozen Jap and Crepe de Chine Silk Waists, both long and short sleeves in black and white and also colored stripes, an excellent waist value. Sizes from 34 to 44.

These dresses are made of materials like fine ginghams, chambrays, linens, etc., in medium colors, and very daintily trimmed. They are mostly wide skirts and are in sizes 14 to 42.

Ladies' $1.98 Waists, Special $1.29 $1.00 and $1.50 Children's Dresses, Special 79c

This lot includes about two dozen Jap and Crepe de Chine Silk Waists, all long sleeves, in black and white and sizes 36 to 46. Buy early before your size is closed out.

Pretty School Dresses of gingham, chambrays, etc., in plaids and stripes, some trimmed with the plain materials. In 2 to 14 year sizes.

The new Suits, Coats, Skirts and Dresses are here and await your careful inspection. Buy early and get the full benefit of your garments when they are new.

The Homer Fitts Company

MONTPELIER

Neil Benzie, employed here for a few years and who has been with the Klark Urban company during the past year, has been spending a few days in the city and leaves to-night for Paris, N. Y., where he joins the Southern Dramatic company for the season.

Mrs. L. H. Baine has returned from a stay of a couple of months in Portland, Me.

Lieutenant Governor Hale K. Darling left last evening for White River Junction, to attend the closing of the state fair as the executive of the state, after which he will go to Franklin to attend the funeral of Madam Gates, which occurs Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Albert Sparrow, who has been ill for some days, has recovered.

Herbert Sanborn continues to improve and his physician now thinks he will recover from his injury following sunstroke.

Repairs were made Thursday in the Gleason block, where the city truck ran into it Wednesday afternoon, knocking the goods from the shelves and frightening the help in general.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McCargar, have returned from East Alburg, where they were called to attend the funeral of Mr. McCargar's father.

CHARGED WITH BREAKS.

Indictments Against Rowell, Webster and Dalton at Woodsville, N. H. Woodsville, N. H., Sept. 17.—Among indictments returned here yesterday are the following: Walter Rowell, Herbert Webster and Ernest S. Dalton, breaking and entering.

A jury was impaneled in the case of Greenley & Jackson vs. Orford Mutual Fire Insurance Co., an action to recover insurance on a building which was destroyed on May 1, 1913. After taking testimony counsel reached a settlement and the jury was excused.

Houghton & Robins

2 pounds and 3 pounds of Cookies for 25c
Fresh lot of Drake's Cakes, Silver, Gold, Chocolate, Sultana, Fruited Spice, Maple Nut and Sponge, each 10c
3 large loaves Bread for 25c
Peaches, Pears, Grapes, Oranges and Bananas.

MEAT DEPARTMENT

Legs of Lamb, per lb. 25c
Lamb Chops (Saturday only), per lb. 28c
Lamb Roasts, per lb. 20c
Native Fowls, per lb. 23c
Native Chickens, per lb. 28c
Pork Chops, per lb. 16c, 18c and 20c
Western Beef Roasts, per lb. 20c to 25c
Boston Celery, large bunches 18c
10 lbs. of Sweet Potatoes for 25c
Golden Bantam Corn, per dozen 10c
6 lbs. Ripe Tomatoes for 25c
Shell Beans, 4 quarts for 25c

FRESH AND SALT FISH

258 'Phones 259

Boys' Shirts and Blouses

The K. and E. and Mothers' Friend Shirts and Blouses for boys. We have complete lines of the above in all colorings.

Blouses, 4 to 16 years, 50c.
Shirts, 12 1-2 to 14 at 50c and $1.00.

Frank McWhorter Company

ARRESTED AT FAIRGROUNDS.

New York Man Held for Trial in a Vermont Court.

Manchester, Sept. 17.—The Battenkill valley fair closed yesterday afternoon with a large attendance, despite the extremely high temperature. Three race events were the feature of the program. Deputy Sheriff Purdy arrested George Rolough of Salem, N. Y., on the charge of selling liquor illegally. He was taken to the Manchester jail.

The race summaries:

2:45 TROT OR PACE—PURSE $125.

Kochan (Benedict) 1 1 1
Daylight (Culter) 2 2 2
Benington Boy (Haskins) 4 4 4
Keebo (Bryant) 3 4 4
Time—2:26, 2:31, 2:36.

2:27 PACE—PURSE $125.

Joe Andrews (Brennan) 2 1 1
Puzzle (Taylor) 1 2 2
Lucky (Taylor) 2 2 3
Benington Boy (Haskins) 4 4 4
Time—2:24, 2:26, 2:24, 2:26.

FREE FOR ALL—PURSE $225.

Wy Fred (Brown) 1 1 1
Locust, Jr. (Bridges) 2 2 2
Time—2:25, 2:28, 2:31.

MAGYERS THREATEN.

Will Withdraw Half a Million Deposits from Banks.

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 17.—Alex C. Covert, national president of the Verbanoy Aid society, a Magyar organization with 28,000 members, announced last night that the association had agreed to withdraw its deposits, amounting to some $500,000 from American banks and to issue an appeal to every member to withdraw his personal deposits if banks in this country subscribed to the Anglo-French loan.

The Hungarian Herald, a foreign newspaper here, yesterday afternoon published a notice from the Anglo-Hungarian vice consul at Pittsburgh warning all Anglo-Hungarians from engaging in the manufacture of war munitions. The notice states that this was done by authority of the Anglo-Hungarian embassy at Washington. More than 1000 Anglo-Hungarians are employed in the steel mills here.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Hoagknit sweaters at Abbott's.

Saturday sale, Sept. 18, at Vaughan's.

One-half pound 60c Opoko tea for 1c Saturday at Russell's.

William Glickson left this morning for Burlington, where he is making a few days' business visit.

The ladies' union of the Universalist church will hold a winter carnival and sale Nov. 16, 17 and 18.

GEO Madison in a three-reel drama, "The Faith of Her Fathers," also another picture at the Bijou.—Adv.

G. W. Watson, who has been in the city on business connected with the new City hospital, has returned to his home in Boston.

Boy Tassie, son of James Tassie of 6 West street, who has been ill for some time with rheumatic fever, continues slowly to improve.

Saturday, Sept. 18, the I. O. O. L. M. U. will have a food sale of home-made food, beans, spaghetti, etc., at the store of late Oscar Borgh, North Main street.

Miss Nina Converse, who has been passing a two weeks' vacation in Portland, and Old Orchard, Me., resumed her duties in the Quarry Savings bank today.

Henry Denning was among the Barre baseball fans who witnessed the Tigers defeat the Red Sox, 6 to 1, in Boston yesterday. James A. Walker of Vine street left yesterday to witness the remainder of the series.

William McLeod entertained the staff of the Quarry Savings bank at a corn roast at his home, Poplar Villa, on the Montpelier road last evening. There was an abundance of edibles provided for the guests and a very enjoyable social hour followed the corn roasting.

D. A. Perry was in Plainfield this morning and arranged an auction of the C. M. Clark real estate and personal property, which consists of 50 head of cattle and a large amount of farm produce and farm machinery. The farm consists of about 285 acres. Sale will take place about Oct. 1.

Under the direction of the aldermanic street committee, laborers have commenced the work of setting a granite curb for the new cement sidewalk that is to be erected on the south side of Washington street. A start on the sidewalk project was made yesterday, when a curbing trench was started at the Perry street intersection. Original plans for extending the sidewalk from the Spaulding street intersection along the east side of the street to Richardson or Liberty streets have been abandoned, although it is probable that the walk, constructed as far east as Perry street this year, will be completed next year. A survey of that section of Washington street has resulted in a slight change in the location of the walk, a change which will tend to widen the road at that point. The work of laying the cement will be let out to a contractor.

BULLET HOLE IN HEART.

Mike Phillips Killed at Peterboro, N. H.—Revolver Seven Feet Away.

Peterboro, N. H., Sept. 17.—About 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning a report of a revolver was heard at the Central house in this village and upon investigation, Mike Phillips, a native of Russia, aged 35, was found lying on his bed with a bullet hole through the heart.

About seven feet from the bed, on a bureau behind a small lamp, was a .38-calibre revolver which had been used recently.

It appears impossible to the authorities that the man shot himself, dropped the revolver and then reached the bed. To all appearances, he died without a struggle.

Phillips had been working for W. S. Hadley, a farmer in this town, and got through last Monday on account of being intoxicated. He was in company with two men Wednesday evening and was in their room in the same house less than an hour before his death. He had a bottle of liquor at that time and invited the two men to drink with him.

Medical Examiner E. R. Foster was called and viewed the body. Officers Mykawa and Hansen are investigating the case with County Solicitor Spring of Nashua, who arrived later in the day.

A regular meeting of Green Mountain council, No. 756, R. A. will be held on Friday, Sept. 17, at 7:30, in N. E. hall. Important business. Please attend if possible.

Victims in the city yesterday and today included the following people: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Greenwood, Miss A. W. G. Greenwood and chauffeur, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Greenwood and chauffeur, Philadelphia, and F. A. Smith and party, Holbrook, Mass., who arrived by motor at Hotel Barre; F. H. Brown and P. E. McAuliffe, Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Thibodeau, Boston; Harold Varney and Ernest Varney, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. McKnight and Mrs. and Mrs. D. S. Page, Stafford; Mrs. Crawford and Miss Crawford, Manchester; N. H. J. A. Wellington, Burlington; H. S. Spagrow, Balltown Falls; C. B. Lamb, Springfield; Leo Lavery, Burlington; Miss Gertrude Koster, Greenish, N. H.; C. F. Ball, Rutland; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Foster, New York; William Glickson, Salisbury; Louis K. Tremaine, Rutland; W. A. Duley, Vergennes; W. G. Hedges, Northfield.

BARRE DAILY TIMES

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1915.

The Weather

Fair and cooler to-night and Saturday; moderate west winds.

TALK OF THE TOWN

New wash goods at Abbott's.

New styles in R. & G. corsets at Abbott's.

Remember, Saturday only all goods reduced at Vaughan's.

Miss Margaret Barclay of Waltham, Mass., is spending several days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Barclay of Park street.

Mrs. Etta Bascomb left late this forenoon for her home in Morrisville, after spending a few days with friends in Barre and vicinity.

Miss E. L. Nichols of Hartford, Conn., who has been visiting relatives in this city and surrounding towns for the past two weeks, left last night for her home.

Saturday, Sept. 18, the I. O. O. L. M. U. will have a food sale of home-made food, beans, spaghetti, etc., at the store of late Oscar Borgh, North Main street.

Reserve the date, Friday evening, Oct. 1, to take in the novel entertainment to be held in the Congregational church parlors. Watch the paper for further particulars.—Adv.

Ralph Rogers of Richardson street, first honor student in the 1915 class of Spaulding high school, left this noon for Boston, where he will spend about a week before going to New Haven, Conn., where he will enter Yale college.

Miss Elizabeth Mathieson of Burlington, who came here to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Margaret Mathieson, to B. A. Wheeler of Windsor, is remaining in Barre, her former home, for a few days' visit with acquaintances.

The choir and congregation of the Church of the Good Shepherd will hold a concert at the home of Mrs. A. W. Allen, Sunnyside farm, this evening at 7 o'clock. In the event of rain, it will be postponed until Saturday evening at the same hour.

Leonard Calder of Springfield, Mass., who has been spending the past month in this city and vicinity visiting relatives and friends, left this morning for his home for a short visit before leaving for New York City, where he has secured employment.

The Mercer house on the Montpelier road is beautiful inside, and the location is an ideal one for a residence just out of town. The place is for sale with enough land for a nice garden. Call up M. A. Hoadley, Montpelier, and ask for price and terms. Phone 149-M.

Albert Creamer's record for continuous service in the employ of a single granite manufacturing concern, as chronicled in yesterday's Times, is excelled by that of Ernest Jones, another employe of C. W. Melcher, who has worked at the banker in the stonehills for more than 26 years.

Officer John W. Dineen of the police force returned yesterday from Vergennes, where he accompanied a trio of youngsters to the state industrial school for the remainder of their minorities. The boys were convicted in city court of complicity in the theft of automobile accessories in a car which stood in front of the Brook street Swedish mission one night this week.

John Stephens of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of Barre, writes that he had the pleasure of calls from Judge H. W. Sawyer of Barre city court and H. L. Luchina of the North Barre Granite Co., and also L. Cross of Northfield on a single day. He says that frequent calls from his former townsmen and the arrival of The Times make him almost forget that he no longer is in Barre.

Employees of the Hoyt & Milne stonehills to the number of about 30, left this morning for the grove near Pierson's farm at the upper end of Prospect street. The occasion was their annual picnic. Baseball implements were carried along and a game between the married men and the single men was on the schedule for late afternoon. Other sports in the line of running and jumping will have prominence. Scotch music in the form of bagpipes filled the air of that vicinity most of the day.

The football game that was to have been played between the Spaulding alumni and the high school team this afternoon has been cancelled. Coach Brown decided that with such warm weather conditions he would not put his team to extreme hard practice. Light work during each afternoon of the week has been given the team and if it can be arranged, the first game of the season will be played with the alumni next week.

The management of the team has carefully all the schedule made up and will be ready for print sometime next week. As yet no game has been arranged with the Goddard seminary eleven and the chances for the two teams to get together this year are pretty small.

Frank Townsend of Alaska is visiting at the home of his father, Charles R. Townsend of 54 Washington street, having been dispatched on a mission east for the purpose of purchasing three locomotives and a rotary snowplow for a railroad line that was recently constructed in the great northern territory. Although Mr. Townsend has extensive interests of his own in the Alaskan peninsula, he is to be employed this winter by one of the railroads that was recently built to develop untapped sections of the country. A former Barre boy and a graduate of the old Barre academy, Mr. Townsend is actively engaged along various lines, and his numerous undertakings include a silver box and martens farm which he conducts on a small island off the coast of Alaska. Mr. Townsend is making his first visit to Barre in four years and plans to spend several days in the city.

Employees of the Hoyt & Milne stonehills to the number of about 30, left this morning for the grove near Pierson's farm at the upper end of Prospect street. The occasion was their annual picnic. Baseball implements were carried along and a game between the married men and the single men was on the schedule for late afternoon. Other sports in the line of running and jumping will have prominence. Scotch music in the form of bagpipes filled the air of that vicinity most of the day.

The football game that was to have been played between the Spaulding alumni and the high school team this afternoon has been cancelled. Coach Brown decided that with such warm weather conditions he would not put his team to extreme hard practice. Light work during each afternoon of the week has been given the team and if it can be arranged, the first game of the season will be played with the alumni next week.

The management of the team has carefully all the schedule made up and will be ready for print sometime next week. As yet no game has been arranged with the Goddard seminary eleven and the chances for the two teams to get together this year are pretty small.

Frank Townsend of Alaska is visiting at the home of his father, Charles R. Townsend of 54 Washington street, having been dispatched on a mission east for the purpose of purchasing three locomotives and a rotary snowplow for a railroad line that was recently constructed in the great northern territory. Although Mr. Townsend has extensive interests of his own in the Alaskan peninsula, he is to be employed this winter by one of the railroads that was recently built to develop untapped sections of the country. A former Barre boy and a graduate of the old Barre academy, Mr. Townsend is actively engaged along various lines, and his numerous undertakings include a silver box and martens farm which he conducts on a small island off the coast of Alaska. Mr. Townsend is making his first visit to Barre in four years and plans to spend several days in the city.

Employees of the Hoyt & Milne stonehills to the number of about 30, left this morning for the grove near Pierson's farm at the upper end of Prospect street. The occasion was their annual picnic. Baseball implements were carried along and a game between the married men and the single men was on the schedule for late afternoon. Other sports in the line of running and jumping will have prominence. Scotch music in the form of bagpipes filled the air of that vicinity most of the day.

The football game that was to have been played between the Spaulding alumni and the high school team this afternoon has been cancelled. Coach Brown decided that with such warm weather conditions he would not put his team to extreme hard practice. Light work during each afternoon of the week has been given the team and if it can be arranged, the first game of the season will be played with the alumni next week.

The management of the team has carefully all the schedule made up and will be ready for print sometime next week. As yet no game has been arranged with the Goddard seminary eleven and the chances for the two teams to get together this year are pretty small.

Frank Townsend of Alaska is visiting at the home of his father, Charles R. Townsend of 54 Washington street, having been dispatched on a mission east for the purpose of purchasing three locomotives and a rotary snowplow for a railroad line that was recently constructed in the great northern territory. Although Mr. Townsend has extensive interests of his own in the Alaskan peninsula, he is to be employed this winter by one of the railroads that was recently built to develop untapped sections of the country. A former Barre boy and a graduate of the old Barre academy, Mr. Townsend is actively engaged along various lines, and his numerous undertakings include a silver box and martens farm which he conducts on a small island off the coast of Alaska. Mr. Townsend is making his first visit to Barre in four years and plans to spend several days in the city.

Employees of the Hoyt & Milne stonehills to the number of about 30, left this morning for the grove near Pierson's farm at the upper end of Prospect street. The occasion was their annual picnic. Baseball implements were carried along and a game between the married men and the single men was on the schedule for late afternoon. Other sports in the line of running and jumping will have prominence. Scotch music in the form of bagpipes filled the air of that vicinity most of the day.

The football game that was to have been played between the Spaulding alumni and the high school team this afternoon has been cancelled. Coach Brown decided that with such warm weather conditions he would not put his team to extreme hard practice. Light work during each afternoon of the week has been given the team and if it can be arranged, the first game of the season will be played with the alumni next week.

The management of the team has carefully all the schedule made up and will be ready for print sometime next week. As yet no game has been arranged with the Goddard seminary eleven and the chances for the two teams to get together this year are pretty small.

Frank Townsend of Alaska is visiting at the home of his father, Charles R. Townsend of 54 Washington street, having been dispatched on a mission east for the purpose of purchasing three locomotives and a rotary snowplow for a railroad line that was recently constructed in the great northern territory. Although Mr. Townsend has extensive interests of his own in the Alaskan peninsula, he is to be employed this winter by one of the railroads that was recently built to develop untapped sections of the country. A former Barre boy and a graduate of the old Barre academy, Mr. Townsend is actively engaged along various lines, and his numerous undertakings include a silver box and martens farm which he conducts on a small island off the coast of Alaska. Mr. Townsend is making his first visit to Barre in four years and plans to spend several days in the city.

Employees of the Hoyt & Milne stonehills to the number of about 30, left this morning for the grove near Pierson's farm at the upper end of Prospect street. The occasion was their annual picnic. Baseball implements were carried along and a game between the married men and the single men was on the schedule for late afternoon. Other sports in the line of running and jumping will have prominence. Scotch music in the form of bagpipes filled the air of that vicinity most of the day.

The football game that was to have been played between the Spaulding alumni and the high school team this afternoon has been cancelled. Coach Brown decided that with such warm weather conditions he would not put his team to extreme hard practice. Light work during each afternoon of the week has been given the team and if it can be arranged, the first game of the season will be played with the alumni next week.

The management of the team has carefully all the schedule made up and will be ready for print sometime next week. As yet no game has been arranged with the Goddard seminary eleven and the chances for the two teams to get together this year are pretty small.

Frank Townsend of Alaska is visiting at the home of his father, Charles R. Townsend of 54 Washington street, having been dispatched on a mission east for the purpose of purchasing three locomotives and a rotary snowplow for a railroad line that was recently constructed in the great northern territory. Although Mr. Townsend has extensive interests of his own in the Alaskan peninsula, he is to be employed this winter by one of the railroads that was recently built to develop untapped sections of the country. A former Barre boy and a graduate of the old Barre academy, Mr. Townsend is actively engaged along various lines, and his numerous undertakings include a silver box and martens farm which he conducts on a small island off the coast of Alaska. Mr. Townsend is making his first visit to Barre in four years and plans to spend several days in the city.

Employees of the Hoyt & Milne stonehills to the number of about 30, left this morning for the grove near Pierson's farm at the upper end of Prospect street. The occasion was their annual picnic. Baseball implements were carried along and a game between the married men and the single men was on the schedule for late afternoon. Other sports in the line of running and jumping will have prominence. Scotch music in the form of bagpipes filled the air of that vicinity most of the day.

The football game that was to have been played between the Spaulding alumni and the high school team this afternoon has been cancelled. Coach Brown decided that with such warm weather conditions he would not put his team to extreme hard practice. Light work during each afternoon of the week has been given the team and if it can be arranged, the first game of the season will be played with the alumni next week.

The management of the team has carefully all the schedule made up and will be ready for print sometime next week. As yet no game has been arranged with the Goddard seminary eleven and the chances for the two teams to get together this year are pretty small.

Frank Townsend of Alaska is visiting at the home of his father, Charles R. Townsend of 54 Washington street, having been dispatched on a mission east for the purpose of purchasing three locomotives and a rotary snowplow for a railroad line that was recently constructed in the great northern territory. Although Mr. Townsend has extensive interests of his own in the Alaskan peninsula, he is to be employed this winter by one of the railroads that was recently built to develop untapped sections of the country. A former Barre boy and a graduate of the old Barre academy, Mr. Townsend is actively engaged along various lines, and his numerous undertakings include a silver box and martens farm which he conducts on a small island off the coast of Alaska. Mr. Townsend is making his first visit to Barre in four years and plans to spend several days in the city.

TALK OF THE TOWN

See Abbott's display of silk and wool dresses.

Ten per cent discount on all goods for only one day, Saturday, at Vaughan's.

Mrs. Potvin, who has been spending several days in the city as the guest of Mrs. James Cantor and with other Barre friends, returned this morning to her home in Burlington.

A September weather record for Barre was probably established yesterday, although numerous reports of unparalleled mercury ascents in different sections of the city have more the solid authenticity of government readings. One man whose daily scrutiny of the thermometer is second in regularity only to his daily perusal of the Bible, notes that a mark of 96 was the highest registered by his indicator. Another's thermometer displayed a tube of mercury whose head was suspiciously opposite the 100 mark and divers readings ranged anywhere from 92 to 100. No heat prostrations were reported, but humanity seemed to be suffering intensely under the scorching rays of the sun.

A bear cub captured by John Hood of East Barre in the untracked forests of northern Vermont in Essex county early in the summer is rapidly adjusting himself to domestic conditions, as passersby at the Hood place have had occasion lately to notice. Bereft of its mother, whose struggle in behalf of her offspring is still vividly remembered by Mr. Hood, the cub at first seemed to spurn all friendly overtures, but latterly the little one has shown a more amiable disposition. Bruin jr. has learned a number of clever tricks and seems to delight in performing for people who stop in front of the Hood home to watch the children playing with their strange pet.

Passengers aboard the interurban street car due to arrive in Barre at 9:45 o'clock were more than startled at the railroad crossing near the Dodge bridge on the Montpelier road last night when a party of motorists came within an ace of possible death by being run down by the car. Evidently the fog and the glare of both the auto and electric car headlights confused the chauffeur, for he drove his machine directly in front of the approaching trolley car and stood squarely on the track, when the motorman, with unusual presence of mind, brought his car to such a sudden halt that the passengers were nearly thrown from their seats. An examination of the auto's position showed that the motorists' escape from collision was a matter of inches. The license number on the machine was 9228, which is credited to William Vitters in the Vermont auto registry.

A bear cub captured by John Hood of East Barre in the untracked forests of northern Vermont in Essex county early in the summer is rapidly adjusting himself to domestic conditions, as passersby at the Hood place have had occasion lately to notice. Bereft of its mother, whose struggle in behalf of her offspring is still vividly remembered by Mr. Hood, the cub at first seemed to spurn all friendly overtures, but latterly the little one has shown a more amiable disposition. Bruin jr. has learned a number of clever tricks and seems to delight in performing for people who stop in front of the Hood home to watch the children playing with their strange pet.

Passengers aboard the interurban street car due to arrive in Barre at 9:45 o'clock were more than startled at the railroad crossing near the Dodge bridge on the Montpelier road last night when a party of motorists came within an ace of possible death by being run down by the car. Evidently the fog and the glare of both the auto and electric car headlights confused the chauffeur, for he drove his machine directly in front of the approaching trolley car and stood squarely on the track, when the motorman, with unusual presence of mind, brought his car to such a sudden halt that the passengers were nearly thrown from their seats. An examination of the auto's position showed that the motorists' escape from collision was a matter of inches. The license number on the machine was 9228, which is credited to William Vitters in the Vermont auto registry.

A bear cub captured by John Hood of East Barre in the untracked forests of northern Vermont in Essex county early in the summer is rapidly adjusting himself to domestic conditions, as passersby at the Hood place have had occasion lately to notice. Bereft of its mother, whose struggle in behalf of her offspring is still vividly remembered by Mr. Hood, the cub at first seemed to spurn all friendly overtures, but latterly the little one has shown a more amiable disposition. Bruin jr. has learned a number of clever tricks and seems to delight in performing for people who stop in front of the Hood home to watch the children playing with their strange pet.

Passengers aboard the interurban street car due to arrive in Barre at 9:45 o'clock were more than startled at the railroad crossing near the Dodge bridge on the Montpelier road last night when a party of motorists came within an ace of possible death by being run down by the car. Evidently the fog and the glare of both the auto and electric car headlights confused the chauffeur, for he drove his machine directly in front of the approaching trolley car and stood squarely on the track, when the motorman, with unusual presence of mind, brought his car to such a sudden halt that the passengers were nearly thrown from their seats. An examination of the auto's position showed that the motorists' escape from collision was a matter of inches. The license number on the machine was 9228, which is credited to William Vitters in the Vermont auto registry.

A bear cub captured by John Hood of East Barre in the untracked forests of northern Vermont in Essex county early in the summer is rapidly adjusting himself to domestic conditions, as passersby at the Hood place have had occasion lately to notice. Bereft of its mother, whose struggle in behalf of her offspring is still vividly remembered by Mr. Hood, the cub at first seemed to spurn all friendly overtures, but latterly the little one has shown a more amiable disposition. Bruin jr. has learned a number of clever tricks and seems to delight in performing for people who stop in front of the Hood home to watch the children playing with their strange pet.

Passengers aboard the interurban street car due to arrive in Barre at 9:45 o'clock were more than startled at the railroad crossing near the Dodge bridge on the Montpelier road last night when a party of motorists came within an ace of possible death by being run down by the car. Evidently the fog and the glare of both the auto and electric car headlights confused the chauffeur, for he drove his machine directly in front of the approaching trolley car and stood squarely on the track, when the motorman, with unusual presence of mind, brought his car to such a sudden halt that the passengers were nearly thrown from their seats. An examination of the auto's position showed that the motorists' escape from collision was a matter of inches. The license number on the machine was 9228, which is credited to William Vitters in the Vermont auto registry.

A bear cub captured by John Hood of East Barre in the untracked forests of northern Vermont in Essex county early in the summer is rapidly adjusting himself to domestic conditions, as passersby at the Hood place have had occasion lately to notice. Bereft of its mother, whose struggle in behalf of her offspring is still vividly remembered by Mr. Hood, the cub at first seemed to spurn all friendly overtures, but latterly the little one has shown a more amiable disposition. Bruin jr. has learned a number of clever tricks and seems to delight in performing for people who stop in front of the Hood home to watch the children playing with their strange pet.

Passengers aboard the interurban street car due to arrive in Barre at 9:45 o'clock were more than startled at the railroad crossing near the Dodge bridge on the Montpelier road last night when a party of motorists came within an ace of possible death by being run down by the car. Evidently the fog and the glare of both the auto and electric car headlights confused the chauffeur, for he drove his machine directly in front of the approaching trolley car and stood squarely on the track, when the motorman, with unusual presence of mind, brought his car to such a sudden halt that the passengers were nearly thrown from their seats. An examination of the auto's position showed that the motorists' escape from collision was a matter of inches. The license number on the machine was 9228, which is credited to William Vitters in the Vermont auto registry.

A bear cub captured by John Hood of East Barre in the untracked forests of northern Vermont in Essex county early in the summer is rapidly adjusting himself to domestic conditions, as passersby at the Hood place have had occasion lately to notice. Bereft of its mother, whose struggle in behalf of her offspring is still vividly remembered by Mr. Hood, the cub at first seemed to spurn all friendly overtures, but latterly the little one has shown a more amiable disposition. Bruin jr. has learned a number of clever tricks and seems to delight in performing for people who stop in front of the Hood home to watch the children playing with their strange pet.

Passengers aboard the interurban street car due to arrive in Barre at 9:45 o'clock were more than startled at the railroad crossing near the Dodge bridge on the Montpelier road last night when a party of motorists came within an ace of possible death by being run down by the car. Evidently the fog and the glare of both the auto and electric car headlights confused the chauffeur, for he drove his machine directly in front of the approaching trolley car and